Purpose

This inaugural Annual Report documents the Association's organizational accomplishments, financial stewardship, and organizational growth during Fiscal Year 2025–2026. It serves members, sponsors, grant funders, partners, and community stakeholders.

About NVALAS

Founded in 2018, the Nevada Association of Latino Administrators and Superintendents (NVALAS) is a statewide nonprofit professional association advancing educational leadership through professional learning, advocacy, networking, mentoring, and partnership. NVALAS is a Nevada nonprofit corporation and an IRS-recognized 501(c)(3) public charity.

MISSION

To cultivate aspiring and current Latinx educational leaders to lead diverse educational systems, organizations, and communities; with a commitment to equity and excellence.

VISION

To engage Latinx educators and empower them with the transformational leadership skills to advocate for equity and excellence of all students with an emphasis on Latinx community.

Our commitment to transparency

This inaugural report reflects NVALAS's commitment to responsible stewardship, clear financial reporting, and thoughtful investment in leadership development. It is designed to provide members, sponsors, grant funders, and community partners with a concise view of the organization's financial position and institutional growth.

Message from the Treasurer & CFO

Fiscal Year 2025-2026 marked an important year in strengthening NVALAS's financial foundation. We completed monthly bank reconciliations, maintained centralized financial records, reconciled electronic payment platforms, and improved the organization's readiness for sponsorships and grants.

The year closed with $28,989.77 in cash, an increase of $16,443.84 from the beginning of the fiscal year. This growth reflects strong support from members, sponsors, partners, program participants, and community stakeholders. It also provides NVALAS with a stronger base from which to expand leadership development and professional learning opportunities.

As a small but growing nonprofit, our goal is not to produce complexity for its own sake. Our goal is to demonstrate that NVALAS manages its resources carefully, reports transparently, and connects financial stewardship to mission impact.

— Elena Fabunan, Treasurer & Chief Financial Officer

Reading the numbers: Cash inflows and outflows are based on the complete set of Bank of America monthly statements for July 2025 through June 2026. These cash-flow totals include all bank deposits and disbursements and therefore should not be interpreted as audited accrual-basis revenue and expenses.

Stewardship & Accountability

Monthly reconciliation	All 12 fiscal-year months were reconciled to the organization's bank records.
Centralized records	Transactions, reconciliation schedules, dashboards, and Treasurer reports were maintained in the NVALAS financial ledger.
Payment-platform controls	Square activity, processing fees, and net deposits were reviewed against bank activity. PayPal and Zelle transfers were identified through bank records.
Board oversight	Regular Treasurer reporting supported Executive Board review of the organization's financial condition.
Compliance foundation	NVALAS completed its IRS reinstatement process and maintained recognition as a 501(c)(3) public charity.
Grant readiness	Financial records and organizational documentation were organized to support future sponsorship and grant applications.

Investing in our mission

NVALAS used its financial resources to support leadership development, professional learning, networking, advocacy, member engagement, and the organizational systems required to sustain this work.

Leadership development

Programs such as La Semilla and leadership-focused convenings created spaces for identity, advocacy, mentorship, and transformational leadership.

Professional learning

Events and learning opportunities connected educators and administrators with relevant expertise, strategies, and networks.

Community & partnerships

Sponsor and partner support expanded NVALAS's ability to convene leaders and strengthen connections across Nevada.

Organizational capacity

Technology, communications, insurance, governance, financial systems, and compliance work built the foundation needed for responsible growth.

Looking ahead

- Diversify revenue through grants, sponsorships, and recurring support.
- Build and protect an appropriate operating reserve.
- Continue timely monthly reconciliation and Executive Board reporting.
- Strengthen program-level tracking so future reports can connect dollars to outcomes more precisely.
- Continue publishing the NVALAS Annual Report as the Association's official annual publication.
